- (ii) Pyramid may employ third party contractors in connection with its performance of the Services, provided that Pyramid remains responsible for such Services and personnel. Customer acknowledges and agrees that Pyramid intends to employ its affiliated company and personnel in India at the ODC and that it is anticipated that the use of the affiliated company and its personnel has enabled Pyramid to quote fees and rates lower than would otherwise be the case.

3. Responsibilities of Customer.

- 3.1. Customer shall be solely responsible for use of each Work Product, which includes, but is not limited to, use in accordance with all applicable laws, applicable Documentation, its internal operating procedures, its audit and regulatory controls, its policies to ensure accuracy and security of data, and other procedures necessary for Customer's intended use of the Software.
- 3.2. Customer shall use reasonable efforts to cooperate with Pyramid in the course of Pyramid's provision of Services and Work Product under this Agreement, which may include but is not limited to providing access to Customer information, resources, and personnel as reasonably requested by Pyramid to allow Pyramid to perform its obligations. Customer shall respond in a prompt and timely manner to all inquiries and all reasonable requests for direction made by Pyramid in performing the Services in order that this Project may be completed in a timely manner.
- 3.3. With respect to the use of any Software included in the Work Product, Customer shall be responsible for:
 - 3.3.1. procuring, providing, and maintaining any hardware, peripherals, third party operating systems and any Third Party Materials which are specified in this Schedule or Documentation as necessary to operate the Software;
 - 3.3.2. ensuring the compatibility of Customer's (and any third party's) computer hardware, software, peripherals, device drivers, third party operating systems, and other third party software with the Software;
 - 3.3.3. providing a safe and suitable location for installation, use, testing and operation of the Software in accordance with any instructions that may be reasonably specified by Pyramid in writing; and
 - 3.3.4. data entry, data loading, security of the Software and data, and maintaining back-up or archival copies thereof.
- 3.4. Customer will be responsible for payment for, and entering into appropriate licensing agreements concerning Third Party Materials incorporated into Software, and for obtaining the right for Pyramid in the performance of the Services to access, use and interface with any Third Party Materials already used by Customer or acquired by Customer as part of this Project. Customer also shall obtain all necessary rights and licenses for Pyramid to have access to and to use Customer Material and where necessary, incorporate such Customer Material into the Work Product.

4. Representations and Warranties.

- 4.1. Pyramid shall perform the Services set forth in this Schedule in good and workmanlike manner, with due care and attention, and in accordance with the established practices, quality levels and performance standards of leading providers of services similar to the Services.
- 4.2. Pyramid assumes no responsibility for any malfunction, non-performance or degradation of performance of the Software or Services caused by or resulting directly or indirectly from, and Customer shall be solely responsible for:

- 4.2.1. any incorporation or implementation of non-Pyramid modifications into the Software and/or any non-Pyramid approved software, components or devices, which are connected to the Software;
- 4.2.2. any Software modified or services provided other than by Pyramid;
- 4.2.3. non-conformities caused by a combination of the Software with environments, operating systems or other software or hardware not recommended for use with the Software;

TO THE MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT
CHANGE ORDER PROCEDURE

- 1.1 In the event that Customer requests Pyramid to provide additional services or Reports which are not specifically defined in a Schedule, the parties shall follow the Change Order procedure set forth below.
- 1.2 One party shall submit a written request for a Change Order to the other party. The parties will decide promptly whether Customer or Pyramid is most capable of preparing a detailed Change Order, specifying the change in Services, Work Product, investment, milestones, etc. resulting from such Change Order. The party preparing the detailed Change Order will do so as soon as practicable and in normal cases, within ten (10) business days. A Change Order shall be considered accepted, and Pyramid shall proceed with the associated effort, only if signed by authorized representatives of each Party.
- 1.3 In preparing a Change Order, each Party shall promptly provide additional information requested by the Party preparing the Change Order.
- 1.4 Once a detailed Change Order is prepared and delivered, the Party receiving the proposed Change Order shall countersign and return the Change Order within thirty (30) calendar days if it wishes to accept the Change Order.
- 1.5 As agreed by the Parties, the Change Order may be on either a time and materials basis or on a fixed price basis.
- 1.6 Until a Change Order is agreed in writing by the Parties, Pyramid shall continue to perform and be paid under the applicable Schedule as if such Change Order had not been submitted.

EXHIBIT B

TO THE MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

TRAVEL AND EXPENSE POLICY

The Parties agree that Customer shall reimburse Pyramid for reasonable and actual expenses incurred in the performance of the Services while traveling on Customer's behalf. Reimbursement shall be for authorized business travel only and must be approved in advance by the appropriate Customer Project Manager.

1. Customer will reimburse Pyramid for all reasonable and actual expenses incurred for domestic travel and expenses in connection with this Agreement in accordance with Customer's reasonable travel policy generally applicable to Customer's employees, a copy of which has been provided to Pyramid. If the Parties agree not to adhere to Customer's standard travel policies, then the following shall apply for domestic travel:
 - (a) Airfare. When commercially reasonable, Pyramid will use the lowest available "coach" fare, will use electronic tickets if possible, and will reserve tickets to meet advance ticket purchase requirements, provided that if Customer creates a schedule change resulting in an airline charge, Pyramid will be reimbursed for such charges.
 - (b) Lodging. Pyramid will book hotel reservations at economically available rates at properties that are convenient to the applicable Customer facility, provided that such accommodations meet reasonable standards of cleanliness, security, etc.
 - (c) Rental Cars. Pyramid will reserve mid-size vehicles or smaller unless 3 or more people are traveling together and a larger vehicle is required. In the interest of travel cost savings, every reasonable effort should be made to return cars with a full tank of gas. In the event that a rental car is not required, travel to and from airports should be by bus, shuttle, taxi, or limousine service. Pyramid is responsible for traffic citations, parking tickets or other cited violations of applicable traffic regulations when on Customer business.
 - (d) Meals. Pyramid understands that reimbursement for meals will be based on what is considered to be reasonable and proper for the location and business requirement where travel is performed.
 - (e) Foreign Travel. Pyramid will generally not bill for non-domestic travel, primarily to and from India. However, if as a result of a Change Order or unanticipated request or demand of Customer, unanticipated travel to or from India is required, Pyramid reserves the right to be reimbursed for such in accordance with the above policy.
 - (f) Miscellaneous Expenses. Pyramid will submit all reimbursable expenses at actual cost with no markup. Examples of non-allowable expenses include the following.
 - Personal entertainment
 - Exercise, sauna or steam room expenses
 - Movie channel rental expense
 - Haircuts, manicures, magazines, shoe shines, newspapers, tobacco, etc.
 - Excessive personal long-distance phone calls
 - Theft, loss or damage to personal effects
 - Medical expenses
 - Air or auto insurance policies
 - Household expenses while away from home
 - Baby-sitting expenses / kennel fees
 - Cost of credit cards used to travel
2. Pyramid will submit all Customer-related travel expenses to Customer in the form of an invoice which itemizes all expenses and includes original receipts, where available. Actual receipts are required for reimbursement of expenses which are $25 or more.
3. Any other required travel or related expenses not described above must be pre-approved in writing by the Customer or will not be reimbursed.
